NEWS in BRIEF

VANDENBERG A.F.B., Calif. (UPI)—Air Force teams were expected to make an attempt today to recover a 380-pound capsule from Discoverer XXXVI, after a record four days in orbit. Indications Friday pointed to the record-breaking recovery attempt, but for the record the Air Force said that no decision has been made on when to try to recall the gold-plated pocket from the satellite orbiting the earth at 18,000 miles per hour.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's blunt demand for more Latin-American attention to the Dominican Republic may make it easier for President Kennedy to talk frankly in Venezuela and Colombia this weekend.

But his associates said today that to the best of their knowledge the Montana Democrat, as he usually does, was acting on his own in lecturing the Organization of American States about unrest in the island republic.

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Adolf Eichmann prepared today to move to what probably will be his last home—a death row cell in an Israeli prison.

Eichmann has two straws to clutch at before his execution date—an appeal of the Israeli Supreme Court and, if that fails, a plea for clemency from President Itzhak Ben-Zvi.

Robert Servatius, Eichmann's attorney, has indicated that he will try both. Observers doubt that either will succeed.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—The Republicans, fighting tooth and nail to become a major political party in Texas, faced another test of strength with the Democrats today in a special congressional election.

Voters went to the polls in the far-flung 13th Congressional District in north Texas with a choice among one Republican and four Democrats. The largest city in the district is Wichita Falls—the hometown of Republican U.S. Sen. John Tower. Last spring, Tower became the first Republican elected to the Senate from Texas since Reconstruction days.

JFK in Good-Will Visit to Venezuela

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press International

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—President Kennedy, warmed by the greatest reception ever accorded a visitor in Venezuela's history, called today for the Americas to eliminate "tyranny of whatever source or breed" from Cape Horn to the Arctic Circle.

Kennedy waved and smiled from his bubble-top limousine to an estimated 300,000 Venezuelans who stood along the 27-mile expressway from the airport to the city and massed in downtown Caracas streets.

The opening of the President's South American trip was a triumph.

There were no signs of hostility and, at the outset at least, no indications there would be any repetition of the incident in 1958 when Vice President Richard Nixon was stoned and spat upon in this same city.

The government had stationed 35,000 troops and police along the routes taken by the President and Mrs. Kennedy and the green-clad soldiers were only six feet apart in the Catia Section where Nixon was attacked and in El Silencio where a large number of Communists live.

Kennedy arrived in Caracas shortly after 10 a.m. and then flew by helicopter from the capital with President Romulo Betancourt to the village of La Morita where he delivered the major address of his visit at the dedication of a new agrarian housing project.

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro was not mentioned by name by Kennedy but the President obviously was striking at him in his call for "freedom from dictatorship" through the hemisphere.

In his speech prepared for delivery at La Morita, Kennedy said the nations of the Americas henceforth will be "more than good neighbors, we will be partners."

Kennedy said Venezuela's own overthrow of a repressive dictatorship, that of Marco Perez Jimenez three years ago, was a striking example of the hemisphere's new alliance for progress.

"One of the first goals of the new inter-Americanism must be the elimination of all such tyranny, of whatever source or breed, until this is a hemisphere of democratic and independent nations from Cape Horn to the Arctic Circle."

Kennedy said the United States would help Venezuela in its agrarian reform by making loans available to build rural homes and advancing credits to finance crops.

Jacqueline Looks Like Top Asset

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy may turn out to be one of her husband's greatest assets in Latin America, as she was in France last summer.

The First Lady's debut was a walloping success in Puerto Rico, partly because she had brushed up on her college Spanish and was able to talk to Puerto Ricans in their own tongue.

Mrs. Kennedy made a hit here as soon as she stepped off the plane Friday afternoon with her husband. The crowd applauded and shouted "Jackie."

Two little girls shyly presented her with a bouquet of carnations and orchids. She smiled at them and said "Thank you, dears."

She directed that numerous other floral tributes to her be sent to the city's hospitals.

While her husband rode with Gov. Luis Munoz Marin in the motorcade through this packed city, Jackie and the governor's wife rode in another car right behind. After they reached La Fortaleza, the governor's residence where they spent the night, Jackie translated for her husband some of the Spanish phrases shouted at them en route.

One was "Welcome, Uncle Kennedy," a term that Puerto Ricans reserve for persons they consider with great affection.

Pressure On U.N. Mounts

Diplomats Await Responses from Kennedy Appeal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Pressure on the United Nations to arrange a ceasefire in the Congo's "independent" Katanga province mounted steadily today.

Diplomats here were awaiting responses from Katanga President Moise Tshombe and Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula to President Kennedy's reconciliation efforts.

The President, acting in response to an appeal from Tshombe, was said by highly reliable sources to have suggested that the two leaders meet at Kitona, a former Belgian base near the seacoast, southwest of Leopoldville. Previous efforts to get the two together failed because of Tshombe's refusal to go to the capital and Adoula's insistence that he do so.

Acting Secretary General Thant summoned his 18-nation advisory committee today to consider Britain's formal appeal, made earlier this week, to arrange a ceasefire.

Demands Immediate Meeting

President Fulbert Youlou of the former French Congo demanded an "immediate" meeting of the Security Council to proclaim a ceasefire, but the major powers informed Egyptian Council President Omar Loutfi that they did not favor a meeting before next week.

Thant sent similar messages to Youlou, Malagasy President Philibert Tsiranana and Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak.

In all three, he emphasized that he was in favor of ending the hostilities in Katanga as soon as the U.N.'s "minimal requirements" were achieved. He restated these in his message to Spaak as follows:

"To regain and assure our freedom of movement, to restore law and order, and to insure that in the future U.N. forces and officials in Katanga are not subjected to such attacks; and meanwhile to react vigorously in self defense to every assault on our present positions, by all the means available to us."

Red China Beat Down on UN Bid

UNITED NATIONS — Red China will not be seated in the United Nations for at least another year.

The General Assembly Friday voted 48-36 against a Soviet Resolution that would have replaced Chinese Nationalists with Chinese Communists in all U.N. bodies.

The vote amounted to a victory for the United States in the first showdown on Chinese representation.

Support for seating of Red China was much smaller than many diplomats had expected. But U.S. Ambassador Stevenson's comment after the meeting was limited to an expression of gratification that Nationalist China's rights in the United Nations had been reinforced.

Before rejecting the Soviet resolution, the assembly voted 45-30 against an amendment proposed by Cambodia, Ceylon and Indonesia to call for the same thing in more polite words. There were 20 absences on the resolution and 23 on the amendment.

Defeat of the pro-Communist propositions was foreshadowed when the assembly decided that any proposal to change the U.N. representation of China was an important question needing a two-thirds vote.

The resolution to that effect, introduced by Australia, Colombia, Italy, Japan and the United States passed by a vote of 61-34—well over the simple majority that would have sufficed. There were seven absences.

Clarification

Protests have been received at The Desert Sun regarding reports stating that immunization against polio now is required for all school pupils.

A clarification is in order here. Under the law the immunizations are required unless there is an objection that such is contrary to the belief of the pupil or his parent, or where immunization is not safe to the physical condition of the pupil — this information being virtually a verbatim quote from the State Attorney General as of Aug. 23, 1961.

Feelers on Berlin Set In January

PARIS (UPI)—The United States and Britain will resume their diplomatic feelers to Russia on Berlin right after the first of the year although they have little hope of real success, Western diplomatic sources said today.

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts are expected to make the approaches the first week or days of January.

The United States and Britain Friday night received approval for the action from 12 other members of NATO. Only France opposed it on the ground that no approach should be made to the Russians until they show some indication they will negotiate reasonably.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, acting for President Charles de Gaulle, put up a final three-hour battle to block the move.

Delegates said the session was both "strenuous and irritating" although they admitted De Gaulle had a good point in not wanting to have the approach to the Soviets taken as a sign of Western weakness.

Tshombe Believed Fleeing

Hand-to-Hand Fight by Swedes Grabs Main Camp

ELISABETHVILLE (UPI) Six thousand U.N. troops backed by shattering mortar fire pressed in on Elisabethville from three sides today amid reports that Katanga President Tshombe had fled this capital.

A U. N. spokesman in Leopoldville announced tonight that Swedish U. N. troops have captured the main Katanga gendarmerie camp in Elisabethville after bitter hand-to-hand fighting. The Swedes suffered five wounded, two of them seriously, in the successful battle for Camp Massart, the spokesman said.

Other U. N. troops captured control of Elisabethville's road tunnel area and the outskirts regions around the golf course and the Lido Hotel, the spokesman said. At least two Irish troops were reported killed and three wounded in the fighting for the tunnel.

In more than five hours early today, U. N. troops lobbed at least 100 mortar shells into the center of the city in an all-out bid for control of this secessionist province capital.

Elisabethville was without water and electricity after the heavy bombardment.

U. N. forces were reported to have taken the Leopold II hotel and the central postoffice in downtown Elisabethville.

According to reliable diplomatic sources in Leopoldville, Tshombe fled to Kipushi, a small town on the Katanga side of the northern Rhodesian border about 17 miles southwest of Elisabethville.

Reports reaching Salisbury, southern Rhodesia, said Tshombe and his ministers were believed to have gone to Kipushi to try to seek asylum in Rhodesia with the consent of federal Rhodesian Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky.

Seize Tunnel
Early this morning, U. N. troops blazed their way across the railway lines on the western side of the city and seized the bitterly contested airport road tunnel.

A Katanga communique released in Brussels said Katangese soldiers beat off the U. N. attack and still held the tunnel.

Thinly-Veiled Threat Sent Southern Officials

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI)—Negro anti-segregation demonstrators sent city officials a thinly-veiled ultimatum today, warning that unless their demands are met a new mass protest would start.

Dr. W. G. Anderson, head of the Albany Movement which has sponsored a series of recent demonstrations, sent a telegram this morning to Mayor Asa Kelley. It said:

"We waited the night of the 15th of December for an acceptable response but it was not forthcoming. We shall prayerfully await an acceptable response (by 10 a.m. EST) this morning at the Shiloh Baptist Church."

About 50 Negroes had gathered at the church by early morning. Police and state highway patrol cars drifted through the Negro section at intervals, along with an occasional carload of whites.

At least 400 Negroes have been arrested since the mass protests started last Tuesday.

The City Commission met again today to finish drafting counter-proposals to Negro demands for the start of an integration program in this southwest Georgia industrial city of 56,000.

Mayor Kelley said Friday night that the commission was slowed in reaching a decision by the fact that Negro leaders had made additional last-minute demands.

NEW OFFICES are opened in Palm Springs for the California Department of Employment with the receipt by area manager Niels H. Pederson, center, of work applications and a card filing coding system. R. J. Nelson, left, Indio office manager, was instrumental in securing the office here, while Robert Baker is local employment office manager. New office is located at the American Legion Hall. ## Proposed Pet Cemetery To Get Supervisors Scrutiny

RIVERSIDE — Riverside County Supervisors will consider a request for a pet cemetery and study two other decisions to change street names in the desert area among other items at their meeting Monday.

The board is scheduled to consider the granting of an M-3 permit in the Garnet area to the Palm Springs Humane Society for a cemetery for pets. The street name changes are a resolution of intention to change the name of 46th avenue in Bermuda Dunes, and a recommendation to deny the request for changing the name of Vista Chino in the Cathedral

City-Palm Desert district. The board will also hear a communication from the Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce relating to a refuse disposal area.

Three Idyllwild matters will come before the board. One involves a zoning change in Tract 2199, the second consideration of the abandonment of an easement for a fire break and third a notice from the state water board of an application to appropriate water in the Idyllwild area.

The board will also consider a request from the Desert Municipal Court for purchase of certain outlay items.

Pope Appeals For Peace In Congo

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII appealed today to "all those who can and must intervene" to help restore peace in the Congo.

The Pope, addressing participants in a conference on priestly vocations, said the church "cannot remain insensitive in face of so much sorrow and ruin and of the sad consequences which could derive from it."

The Pope did not refer specifically to President Kennedy's efforts to bring about a settlement between Katanga President Moise Tshombe and the Leopoldville government, nor did he refer to an appeal which Tshombe was reported to have sent to the pontiff. "Our words should not be misunderstood," the Pope was quoted as saying. "The church is concerned wherever there is fighting and bloodshed."

The Pope's words were reported by participants in the audience. An official text of his remarks probably will be issued later.

The Pope's appeal for peace was carefully worded so it could not be construed as support for either side in the Katanga fighting, persons who heard it said.

FCC Okay Needed For P.S. TV Station

Palm Springs Television Corp. is prepared to establish Channel 19 in the resort community and will begin construction within 30 days after receiving Federal Communications Commission approval, John Muir, manager, announced last night.

In a press conference at the firm's offices, it was also announced that:

—Frank Allen, former manager of Palm Springs Television, will become the sole owner and operator of Deserttronics Television Co., which in the past has been a subsidiary of Palm Springs Television.

—P. S. TV will begin offering four FM radio stations on its cable service within 30 days.

—An application has been made to the FCC to transmit TV signals by microwave from Palm Peak to Palm Springs Television's offices at 1030 N. Palm Canyon Drive, from which place it would be fed into the cable system to homes — a replacement of the current operating procedure which entails transmitting signals 11 miles by cable before distribution to homes.

—P.S. TV will begin feeding into its cable "as soon as possible" — probably within 30 days — a 24-hour weather service which will constantly show in dials temperature, barometric pressure, humidity, wind direction and velocity and time.

Experts Waiver

Muir explained that his firm's application to install the new TV station is awaiting an FCC decision on whether the Channel 19 allocation should be moved to Indio to further remove it from San Bernardino, where an application has been made for Channel 18.

Both the Channel 18 applicant and P.S. TV have filed comments asking waiver of the mileage requirements and "there is every reason to believe" that such a waiver will be granted, Muir said, and operation is seen six months after that.

Frank Allen said the separation of Deserttronics from its parent company is effective today. It will take over all repair service of TV sets, leasing of sets to hotels and will enter the field of retailing television and radio sets.

Improved Service

Both Allen and Muir emphasized the move would offer improved service to television owners in the desert area and that Deserttronics will work closely with its old parent when reception proves to be the fault of the cable system.

Deserttronics headquarters will be at 1068 N. Palm Canyon Drive, in the same building as Palm Springs Television.

Muir said that tentative programming for the new channel includes educational programs for Palm Springs Unified School District until 3 p.m., some network affiliation for homes not now receiving such programs on the cable and heavy emphasis on local events.

Since the station would be UHF, "almost all" TV owners now in the desert area could receive the station, he said, while those now on VHF could convert to receive the channel for a small outlay.

New College Readies Adult Education Plans

PALM DESERT — Plans are completed for a meeting here next Tuesday to discuss an adult education program by the new College of the Desert which will be opened for classes next fall.

Two representatives each from the Indio and Palm Springs unified school districts will meet with two trustees of the Coachella Valley Junior College district to work out preliminary plans for the program. The dinner session will be held at the Indian Wells Hotel starting at 5:30.

Included in the agenda is preliminary discussion of course offerings so as not to interfere with programs already offered by the high school districts. Other possible discussion will center on where the program will be offered to the citizenry — whether partly in the upper valley and partly lower — or whether all might be offered on the C.O.D. campus which is centrally located.

Following this meeting, another will be held — at 7:30 — by the college's Desert Citizens General Advisory Committee. Dr. Howard Campion, noted Los Angeles County educator, will speak to both groups.

Disprove Hazard From Radiation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists today credited Explorer XII, the most informative satellite ever launched, with a discovery which reverses previous notions about the earth's outer radiation belt and proves it is "no hazard to manned space flight."

The 83-pound Explorer XII was launched by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Aug. 15. It had an elongated orbit ranging from 183 to 48,000 miles in distance from the earth.

It stopped transmitting Dec. 6 after 112 days in orbit. Its electronic lifetime had been estimated at one year. Despite its premature retirement, Explorer XII transmitted "more useful data back to earth than all previously launched scientific satellites combined," NASA said.

Made 102 Orbits

In 102 orbits, the satellite traversed the outer radiation belt 204 times. The inner and outer belts, named after Dr. James A. Van Allen who discovered them, ring the earth like two giant doughnuts.

Evidence gleaned by previous satellites had indicated the outer belt — the one examined most closely by Explorer XII — contained a higher concentration of electrons than protons.

Protons are positively charged nuclear particles; electrons are much tinier negative particles. Explorer XII discovered there are 1,000 times fewer electrons in the outer belt than previously supposed and that protons are the belt's major constituents.

Moreover, these protons are of sufficiently low energy that they constitute "no hazard to manned space flight," according to Dr. Frank McDonald of NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md.

The inner belt, believed to swarm with more energetic protons, is still considered a radiation hazard. But it is far narrower than the outer belt and spacecraft would find it easier to circumvent.

Mass of Information

Explorer XII transmitted so much information about the outer belt, solar cosmic rays, auroral displays, and other sun-earth relationships that it will take scientists until mid-1962 to analyze it all.

It sent back to earth more than three billion "bits" of information, 80 per cent was recorded on more than 2,500 miles of tape. This amount of information corresponds to more than 100 million words averaging five letters each.

Spacecraft of the future using sunlight as a source of electrical energy will be indebted to information derived from Explorer XII, NASA authorities said.

Although the satellite's radio voice is dead, it is still swinging around the earth every 28½ hours. Scientists expect it to re-enter the atmosphere around August, 1963, and burn up.

Explorer Post To Spend $50 For Family

Palm Springs Explorer Post 80, sponsored by the Elks Lodge here, has voted to spend $50 of its money to brighten the Christmas of a local family.

The post, led by Frank Bjerring, advisor, voted the gifts during the last post meeting. A committee will supervise utilization of the funds.

The usual project of the active teenagers, who have raised money through a car wash operation and other activities, is the operation of an automotive shop for the members.

Christmas Programs Told

The annual Christmas program of the children in the elementary schools of the Palm Springs Unified School District will be presented during the coming days prior to vacation, Dec. 21 through Jan. 1.

The Cielo Vista program, "Christmas Bells," will be given Monday evening, at 7:45 in the school's multi-purpose room. It is a story of the church bells which mysteriously fell silent for many years and did not ring again until a poor boy put his only silver coin on the altar of the church. The program is a pageant, with choruses composed of children from grades one through six. There will be some costuming, a few speaking parts, a narrator, and many songs. All children who wished to participate are being used in the program. Mrs. Lois Lux, teacher, is chairman of the program.

The Agua Caliente program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The children will be in Santa Claus's Toy Shop. Two children go to sleep on Christmas Eve wondering what must be happening at Santa's shop on the North Pole. In their dreams Santa's helpers come and take them to Santa's shop, where they help Mrs. Claus do the final testing on all of the toys that Santa is loading on his sleigh. Laurie Ibarra and Douglas Snelling play the parts of Joey and Janie. Santa Claus is played by Kevin Crooks. Linda Shupe stars as Grandma Guilder. The school chorus will open the program with traditional carols, and each class in the school will be participating in the Toy Shop. The play is being directed by the teaching staff. Tim Smith is student director and prompter.

The Desert Hot Springs program will be presented at 10 a.m. on Wednesday. Title of their presentation is "The Songs of Christmas." Each class in the school will participate. Principal Joe Kanya said. Katherine Finchy will present its program at 7 p.m. Monday. The children will sing Christmas carols in the quadrangle, with pupils carrying lights to spotlight their particular scenes. There will be a lighted Christmas tree and a crèche. Principal John Mount announced that the Parent-Teachers Association of the school will serve hot coffee and chocolate.

The Cathedral City School program will be at 8 p.m. Monday, in the cafeteria. The program includes choral reading, "Night Before Christmas," by the fifth grade; Class Dance, "Jingle Bells," by the sixth grade; Musical Duet, "La Bamba Magdalena," by Miguel Sanchez and Alfonso Sanchez; Class Dance, "Deck The Halls," by the fourth grade; Madrigal Songs, "Boat's Head Carol" and "Come All Ye Shepherds," by the fifth and sixth grades; class song, "Bright Christmas Bells," by the fourth grade; choral reading, "Christmas Story From The Bible," by the fifth grade; class song, "Bom Bom Bom Fum Fum Fum," by the sixth grade; musical duet, "Concertino," by Michael and Barry Cook; School Chorus, "Angels We Have Heard On High," "Convent Carol" (soloist, Anita Adressi), and "O Come Little Children;" community singing, "Joy To The World," "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Silent Night." Pupils in Frances S. Stevens school will offer their annual program of Christmas carols, Principal Eileen Carey announced. A

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—A day to do as you please, and you will find that those interested in your welfare will have some very fine ideas how you can advance more quickly in your career, to which you should listen very carefully. Be enthusiastic, grateful. "Grow."

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—A day when everyone seems to be very cooperative and you can therefore accomplish much that will make the future brighter and your personal or home life far more pleasant and harmonious. P.M. Have a happy evening at home. Relax.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—One of those interesting Saturdays when you can run around a good deal and get into the activities you like with friends. Also, be sure you take time to show devotion to and be of service to closest ties first. Be happy.

PISCES (Birthdays from Feb. 20 to March 20)—You can get property interests much improved today and gain much financially as well by being most practical, especially with experts who may be trying to take advantage of you. Keep busy occupied while others are having fun. "Gain."

If Your Child Is Born Today
He, or she, will be one of those interesting people for whom new avenues of gain are ever opening up, so be sure you give the finest education and spiritual training in order that good advantage can be taken of such opportunities. The chart is excellent especially in professions where new lines are to be started that others can follow. There is a fresh, vivid imagination here.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to "you!"

Katanga Aid Aligns U.S. With Russians

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

In lending its support to United Nations action in Katanga, the United States finds itself in unusual alignment with the Soviet Union against three of its Western allies—Britain, France and Belgium.

It further finds itself supporting neutralist Cyrille Adoula, premier of the central Congolese government, against outspokenly anti-Communist Moise Tshombe, president of secessionist Katanga. The differences among the allies came sharply into focus this week in Paris, London and Brussels.

In Paris, Premier Michel Debre attacked U. S. Congo policy in a speech which also recalled U. S. refusal to support the ill-fated Anglo-French invasion of Suez.

Crosby Clan Grows

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Crooner Bing Crosby is looking forward to becoming a grandfather for the ninth time. His youngest son by his first marriage, Lindsay, has revealed that his wife Barbara, was expecting a child in June. It will be the couple's second. Dennis Crosby has three children, Phillip Crosby has two and Gary has one with another on the way.

In London, the British pulled back on a promise to deliver bombs to U. N. forces in Katanga, and called for a cease-fire which the United States promptly rejected.

In Brussels, an official accused U. N. forces of "intended and organized" bombing attacks on hospitals and civilian buildings.

Temperatures Soar

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — A pre-Christmas heat wave set temperatures soaring to new records in the Tampa Bay area. The U. S. Weather Bureau here, reported record high readings of 85 at Tampa and 83 at Sarasota, and a record equalling 83 at St. Petersburg.

The United States was following a foreign policy based upon support for the U. N. and the belief that failure to end Katanga's secession would be to let the whole of the Congo slip into anarchy, opening the door to a take-over by communism.

Die in Crash

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (UPI) — A mother and her two teen-age daughters returning from a Christmas shopping trip were killed Thursday night when a Long Island Railroad train and their car collided. Police identified the victims as Mrs. Beverly Stout Hoffman and her two daughters, 14-year-old Edna and 17-year-old Joann.

The risks were great. Failure would inflict inestimable damage on the U. N. as a world force. Success not only would enhance U. N. prestige, establishing it as a real international police force, but also should open the way to settlement of other Congo ills, both political and economic.

Doubt of Tshombe

Among U. S. policy makers there apparently also was the belief that Tshombe himself was not so reliable as painted.

There had been unprovoked physical attacks by Tshombe troops on U. N. officials. There had been twists and turns of policy toward the central government and there had been broken promises first to fire his mercenaries and then to remove roadblocks against U. N. forces. This week it appeared that any hope of a quick U. N. victory had vanished.

Both sides were building their forces and, if Tshombe carried out his threats, there was the possibility of house-to-house fighting and a policy of scorched earth.

Seek Economic Ties

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Austria, Switzerland and Sweden will apply formally Wednesday for association with the European Common Market. The three nations seek a loose economic relationship with the Common Market, short of full political membership which they fear would compromise their political neutrality.

ONE COMPANY FAMILY

ANTHONY, R.I. (UPI) — Albert St. Amand, 74, of West Warwick is completing his 64th year of work at the Berkshire-hathaway mill here.

His brother Emeric worked 62 years for the same company, his brother Eugene 55 years, and his sister Albertine 35 years.

Christmas music is in the air and a Christmas tree forest has sprouted in a vacant lot along Palm Canyon Drive. There's snow on the mountains, and the dry desert has been drinking the rain thirstily. The shop windows are filled with the longed-for gifts and the ones that will really be under the Christmas trees. Christmas is anticipation... for now is the joy of thinking about what we can do to bring happiness for others.

It's a time for festivities and the Christmas mail is heavy with party invitations as gay as the greeting cards. From now until Christmas there is scarcely a night that does not have its holiday party.

This evening will be a gala one as Bertha and Ed Robbin are holding their annual Christmas party. Mary Noel has been working for days decorating for the party and the hostess who usually adds a dish of her own preparing to the fabulous buffet, is planning a surprise this year that may surpass last year's delicious onion pie that has many of the qualities of quiche lorraine.

Tonight, too, Phil and Jo Regan are hosting one of their intimate cocktail parties, and this time they are honoring Mayor and Mrs. Sam Yorty.

We can only hope that the Yortys will be like that other Angelino at one of last week's parties, who proclaimed that "even the rain is nicer in Palm Springs."

Tomorrow evening, Ruth and Lou Manseau have invited a group of friends in for cocktails, and their Palm Springs guests will be dropping in at the Tennis Club first for the cocktail hour showing of O.E.L. Graves' new Renaissance porcelains that are so beautiful that friends are insisting that he create mantle-sized ones in the color tones of their living rooms.

The showing, which is in the Camellia Room, is being hosted by Mrs. Harry Chadwick, who is still in Chicago. Elaine and Harry are due back on the 22nd, in time for a Palm Springs Christmas.

The Robert Blythes will be entertaining at their Tamarisk Country Club home on the evening of Dec. 22. This will be a cocktail buffet with a long and interesting guest list.

Those who attended the first of the Davidson book salon luncheons back in November, will remember Margery Wilson, who spoke about her book "Double Your Energy." Just looking at her and listening to her you knew she had the answer of "living without fatigue." Her Christmas card reports that the book is "sold out," and just before Christmas, too. She doesn't know whether to be happy at the demand for the book or sad because the publishers underestimated its appeal.

Americans visiting in Rome during the holidays invariably head for Alfredo's restaurant on Piazza Augusteo Emperatore where they revel in the savory fettuccine. Right here in Palm Springs, Giorgio di Salvo is duplicating the dish as a Christmas treat for his globe-trotting patrons. He even sent for oodles of noodles from

Holiday Punch

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cognac is a festive punch for the holidays. Place 12 to 15 ice cubes in a large pitcher. Add 1 cup of cognac, 2 ounces of orange flavored liqueur, 1 quart of apple cider, a dash of orange bitters, and stir. Decorate with mint sprigs and apple slices before serving. Serves about 15.

the noodle factory in Borgo Pio in the shadow of the Vatican.

This is quite a dish. To put it simply it is noodles served with a cream sauce made from several kinds of cheese, but considerable noodle-twirling goes into its preparation. This is a matter of tangling it with a fork and spoon.

There at Giorgio's the other evening, fascinated by the way Louisa was twirling the noodles without breaking them or bruising them, were the William Nanin of Chicago. We had encountered him there on his first night in town (he had just checked his wife into Desert Hospital for an emergency appendectomy) and he said this was the best Italian food he'd ever eaten, not excepting Italy, and that he planned to bring his wife there for her first night out. So he did.

The rain's great for the earth but it is rough on hotels. Stan Spiegelman took a look at the President's nearly empty lobby and at the rain and said "to heck with it," and flashed on his "No Vacancy" sign.

It wasn't 10 minutes until a visitor was standing at the desk demanding a room... which goes to show something.

AT A SIGMA GAMMA, Beta Sigma Phi, candlelight ceremony Jackie Bunting, Pat Angell and

Realtor Talks Of Freedom To AAUW

Dick Darling, Riverside realtor, urged Americans to appreciate their freedom, when he addressed the Palm Springs Branch of the American Association of University Women at the home of Mrs. Florence Hart Larned, Darling, who was introduced by program chairman, Mrs. Val Samuelson, stressed that although Americans have greater economic abundance than any other country in the world, they hesitate to protect the system which has fostered this prosperity. Following his speech which was entitled "It Could Happen Here And It Did," Darling answered several questions from the members.

Mrs. Charles Sakin conducted the business meeting during which Mrs. Bradley Davis announced that the annual home tour will be held on March 4.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Clapp, Mrs. Frederick Morrison, and Mrs. J. A. Younghusband.

Wyler Says He Doesn't Make 'Dirty' Pictures

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Director William Wyler, who made the colossal "Ben-Hur" defended his latest movie with the observation, "I don't make dirty pictures."

Some $13 million was spent on "Ben-Hur" which may become the greatest money-maker in film history.

Wyler's "The Children's Hour" was produced for a fraction of his mammoth religious epic and it will earn only a token as much at the box office.

But in its own way the new Wyler picture already has stirred up as much talk, excitement and certainly more censure, than "Ben-Hur."

Starring Shirley MacLaine, Audrey Hepburn and Jim Garner, the story is a remake of "These Three"—a 1936 shocker that featured Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon and Joel McCrea—which Wyler also directed.

But the 1936 edition was considerably more prudent in dealing with the subject matter, an unnatural relationship between two women.

Wyler admits, "This picture would not have been approved by the Motion Picture Producers Association last year. But the code has been liberalized since then."

The director, who has won three Oscars and been nominated 17 times, said he had not intended his movie to be sensationalized, but that is exactly what is happening to it.

"I see nothing offensive in this picture," he said. "If I thought it would make people shrink away I wouldn't have made the movie. Anyone can tell you I do not make dirty pictures."

"However, I do not think children under 15 years of age should see the picture."

"Moral Story"

"They wouldn't understand it, nor appreciate the lessons it teaches. But I think this is a very moral story that teaches a great lesson."

The lesson?

"The theme of the picture is malicious gossip, not sex deviation," Wyler explained. "It demonstrates the great damage which can be done by unfounded and vicious gossip."

HE'S FUNNY?

Freberg Has Solid Ideas About Humor

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of New York's most successful and "hip" (that's the opposite of "square") comedians thinks a little humor could help boost U.S. prestige abroad.

He is Stan Freberg, who has spoofed his way through radio, television, records and advertising campaigns.

Freberg makes a handsome living in the advertising business by kidding the proverbial pants off it.

His other activities include a presentation on records of American history, a musical comedy and a book called "Freberg's First Reader for Adults."

But it is in a field in which satire has been virtually unused that Freberg would like to try his talents. The field is international relations and his interest is based on the belief that social criticism, disguised by humor, can be used to improve the American image in foreign lands.

"If someone in the White House or in the State Department asked me if I'd like to work on a program for radio—say the Voice of America—in which satire is employed to sell democracy, I'd drop everything else I'm doing," he said in an interview.

"Look, I managed to up sales 25 per cent in four months—which is extraordinary—for a chicken chow mein company by advertising that 95 per cent of Americans never touched the stuff," he said. "We admitted this and the public listened. If you can do that kind of a selling job for chicken chow mein, imagine what you can do for the United States."

Freberg, 34, realized the power of deftly handled satire while a student at Alhambra High School in Los Angeles. He won the election for Student Council president by promising his colleagues he would "turn the principal's office into an automatic car wash and install an eighty-foot picture window in the girls' gym." After school and service in the army, he disc jockeyed under the name of "Honest John," lampooned soap opera with a record called "John and Marsha" and gave children's television its first show of sophistication with "Time for Beany."

Freberg believed audiences had no truck with "being talked down to" and satire, deftly handled, was too effective a force to confine to entertainment.

In 1958, Freberg opened his own advertising consulting firm in Los Angeles. He called it "Freberg, Ltd." and advertised it with a business card which showed a picture of a bored-looking seal. Above the animal's head was written in Latin the motto of the firm which, translated, was "Art for Money's Sake."

When he became sure his unconventional ad business was rolling financially, Freberg made his first venture into political satire.

Here's a bit from the first of a four-record set called "Stan Freberg presents the United States of America."

The scene is in the 1620s when a mayor in Massachusetts, running for reelection, is having a hard time corraling the "Indian vote." He turns down a suggestion to pick an Indian as a running mate and instead sings:

"Take an Indian to lunch this week.

Let him sit right down and munch this week.

Let's give in and all do the brotherhood bit.

Just make sure we don't make a habit of it . . ."

FLANKED by examples of the hundreds of pretty dolls that will be given to needy children is Jacqueline. She's a Palm Springs businesswoman and the wife of Louis Greenwald, whose philanthropic activities have been an influence for happiness to thousands of children. (Desert Sun Photo)

School District Book Quarrel Helps Business

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Book dealer Harry W. Schwartz says the quarrel between the Twin Lakes School Board and the state Department of Public Instruction over merits of McGuffey Readers has been as good for his business as having the 82-year-old book banned in Boston.

Schwartz said he has sold hundreds of McGuffeys since the dispute and added "We never carried them before because there was little call for them."

JOHN DURANT, son of Molly O'Day Kenaston, has sent word he was chosen by Bay Area coaches and sports writers as the best guard of the year in the area during 1961. He is a junior at St. Mary's in Berkeley and is a graduate of St. John's Military Academy in Los Angeles. Young Durant, 16, is president of his junior class this year and held the same class office during his freshman and sophomore years. He will graduate next year, which is the Centennial year. At the present time, the college of his selection is still undecided, according to his mother.

Rams to Finish Season Sunday

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams go into their final game of the season Sunday against the powerful Green Bay Packers seeking to redeem themselves slightly at the end of a disastrous year.

With the Rams in the process of drafting a new batch of potential stars, the final contest is the last chance for some veterans to strike a blow for a 1962 contract.

Green Bay, although it has the Western Division title safely tucked away, does not want to end its season with two straight losses going into the championship game.

The Packers lost by a whisker, 23-21, to the San Francisco Forty Niners last week and some of their luster as division champions will be tarnished if they lose to the Rams also.

Coach Vince Lombardi will have most of his military force on hand for the game. Flanker Boyd Dowler and linebacker Ray Nischke will fly down from Ft. Lewis, Wash., and halfback Paul Hornung was hopeful of getting a weekend pass again.

Tom Moore, who has been pressed into duty as Hornung's replacement, was expected to see considerable action in his final grooming prior to the championship game.

White Sox Stock Sold

CHICAGO (UPI)—The name of Comiskey was erased today from the roster of Chicago White Sox owners for the first time since the club was organized and became a founding member of the American League 61 years ago.

Charles A. Comiskey, grandson of the "Old Roman" who founded the team, sold his 46 per cent interest in the club to a syndicate of 11 young Chicagoans, the oldest 41 years of age, ending a drawn out battle in the courts and the press to attempt to gain control of the team.

HI-LOW DESERT Greenkeepers Association held its regular meeting at the Holiday Inn after a two-hour tour of the Municipal Golf Course. Pictured above is association president Harry Cirate of Canyon Country Club; host of the day Bud Phillips of the Municipal Course; and an association guest, Harold West, manager of the new Bank of America branch in Palm Springs. The association meets almost every month to go over the different golf courses and hear discussions on the area of them.

Stengel Wanted Classy Fielder

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Like an elephant, Casey Stengel never forgets, and therein lies the story of how it took him six years to get Charlie Neal on his side.

Casey and Neal finally joined forces Friday when the New York Mets turned over Lee Walls and $100,000 to the Los Angeles Dodgers for the 30-year-old infielder.

Some baseball officials, including Buzzy Bavasi of the Dodgers, felt "the Mets got themselves a mighty fine ball player."

Others weren't so sure. They pointed out that the Twins, A's and White Sox all passed up a chance to get Neal, who slumped to .235 last season.

Walls to Dodgers For Neal

Outfielder Lee Walls, an off-season resident and real estate salesman in Palm Springs, was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers by the new New York Mets in exchange for second baseman Charlie Neal and $100,000.

Walls, who has already been owned by Pittsburgh, Chicago and Cincinnati before being bought by the NY Mets for $125,000 from the Phillies, is a native of Southern California.

He played with the old Hollywood Stars of the Pittsburgh chain before going up to the Pirates in 1956. He was traded to the Cubs in 1957 who at the close of the 1959 season sent him to Cincinnati. From there he went to the Phillies in 1960.

Local baseball fans will have an opportunity to see Walls perform on April 2 when the Dodgers meet the Los Angeles Angels in an exhibition game at the PS Polo Grounds.

And they also reminded, "the Dodgers don't give up anyone for mere money unless they know something no one else does."

Casey couldn't care less about what the skeptics say.

"I go by what I see with my own eyes," he insists.

Stengel saw Neal for the first time during the spring of 1956 when the Yankees played the Dodgers in four exhibition games.

Casey was so tremendously impressed that he tabbed him "the best second baseman the Dodgers have had since I managed them back in the thirties."

Walls, who can play the infield and the outfield, hit .280 for the Phillies this year and was obtained in the player pool to stock the two new N.L. clubs as a $125,000 premium choice. He is 28.

While the Mets were congratulating themselves over the acquisition of Neal, the Boston Red Sox announced that veteran outfielder Jackie Jensen is not expected to play baseball next year.

Jensen, who is opposed to flying, will be sent a 1962 contract merely as a matter of form, the Red Sox announced. They added that Jensen's name had been broached in recent trade talks involving Neal with the Dodgers.

Only three clubs consummated deals prior to Friday night's midnight deadline on inter-league trading, with the Braves and A's completing a five-player swap just under the wire.

The Braves obtained pitcher Bob Shaw and infielder Lou Klimchick from the A's in exchange for three minor leaguers—outfielder Manuel Jimenez, catcher Joe Azcue and infielder Ed Charles. Shaw had a 12-14 record with the A's last season.

The White Sox sent third baseman Andy Carey to the Phillies for an unannounced sum and two players to be named later, while the Washington Senators traded outfielder Marty Kough to the Cincinnati Reds for catcher Bob Schmidt and pitcher Dave Stenhouse. The Reds also will receive another player later.

USC, UCLA Win Pair in Los Angeles Twin Bill

By MICHAEL HUDSON
United Press International

Four points made the difference in the frantic first round action at the Portland Tournament of Roses which sent St. Mary's and Seattle into tonight's finals.

Unbeaten Seattle, gunning for its fourth straight, was almost undone by the hot shooting of Houston's Don Schvajak before winning, 66-63.

Schvajak hit 23 in a wild first half display as Houston grabbed a 39-35 lead, but only added one after the intermission in a swift reversal.

Seattle finally moved ahead with 3-41 to go on a hook shot by Ernie Dunston. Eddie Miles had 21 to pace the chief.

St. Mary's 61-60 squeeze past host Portland was undoubtedly made possible because Portland's hard-luck center, 6-foot-10 Bill Garner, reinjured his knee in the second half and had to be lifted.

St. Mary's broke a 60-60 deadlock when Joe Lee hit a free throw with 1:49 to go.

Steve Gray led the Gaels with 18 while Lee had one of his biggest nights as he hit 16 points.

Southern California and UCLA put on their most muscular display to date with a pair of easy wins in a Los Angeles twin bill.

UCLA powered past Depauw, 91-62, as soph Walt Hazzard hit 21. It was Depauw's second loss in six games.

Southern California then disposed of Colorado State, considered one of the better teams around, by a lopsided 67-52 count.

The Aggies tried to put the clamps on Johnny Rudometkin, but he still managed to hit 20 points. The Aggies were cold from the floor and hit but 29 per cent of their shots to make life easier for the Trojans.

The two teams swap foes tonight.

Spartans Fall Short

More indications the coast is playing good basketball this year came from Salt Lake, where San Jose State — considered no better than third best in the West Coast Athletic Conference — gave the great Utah club a battle on their own home court.

Utah pulled out a 60-50 win thanks to Billy McGill's 34 big points, but the Spartans cooled off Utah's fast-break offense, San Jose's chances faded after 6-foot-8 Harry Edwards fouled out against the flashy McGill with 11 minutes to play. Halftime score was Utah 29 San Jose State 26.

Other touring California clubs took their lumps.

Once-great Californian now the leading candidate for the Big Five cellar, was hopped by Colorado 63-47 at Boulder.

UCLA Eleven In Scrimmage

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—It looks as if UCLA coach Bill Barnes is going to take no chances on his Bruins being unprepared for their Rose Bowl battle against Minnesota New Year's Day.

Barnes called a surprise scrimmage Friday after the team reported for its regular two-hour practice session and the scrimmage lasted a bit over 50 minutes.

Tailback Bobby Smith, UCLA's total offense and scoring leader during the regular season started in the drill, to the surprise of no one. He completed 3 passes in as many attempts for 86 yards and a touchdown and also carried the ball once for 15 yards and a touchdown.

Barnes appeared happy with the offense, which scored six touchdowns in all, and with the spirited blocking and tackling.

Kegler's Korner

Griffine Men's Wear split 2 - 2 with Wonder Palms Hotel at PS Lanes, as Paul Classen had high series of 790 and a 245 high game in the 500 Scratch Trio.

Outpost Chevron won three out of four from Team 5. Mike Callahan rolled a 757 series. Palm Springs Homes took three from Imperial Motors and Team 2 lost three to Sportsmen's Club.

Industrial Cafe split 2 - 2 with K & F Enterprises. Eugene Grabow had a 375 high series.

In the Pacemaker's League, at PS Bowl, high series went to Frank Citro with a 572 and high game of 204. Ethel's Hideaway beat Hertz Rent A Car, 3-1. Blotter Electric downed Simsarian, 3-1 and Lido Terrazo closed out Moose Lodge, 3-1. High team series went to Blotter Electric with a 2,844.

Redlands High Wins Crown

LOS ANGELES—Redlands High Terriers won the Southern California Interscholastic Federation's Class AAAA football championship last night at the Coliseum in defeating El Rancho High of Pico-Rivera, 14-6.

MILLER SIGNS CONTRACT
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Clark Miller, a Utah State tackle who was San Francisco's fifth draft choice, has signed his first professional football contract with the Forty-Niners.

Limit on Football Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Big Five (Association of Western Universities) is on record today asking that the NCAA put a limitation in advance that can be made up.

The Big Five council concluded its winter meetings Friday by repeating an earlier proposal that advance scheduling be limited to four years or less.

"Right now," said Dr. Ray Kooker of USC, president of the conference, "Most schools have their football schedules drawn up through 1968. That means that a lad in the 7th grade today will be playing the 1968 schedule as a sophomore. It isn't right."

The council, composed of the five athletic directors and five faculty representatives, is expected to meet in the future on plans to meet with the Big Ten on a proposed renewal of a Rose Bowl pact.

"We have no date set for the meeting," said Tom Hamilton, executive director of the organization, "but I'll get in touch with the big ten by letter and/or telephone soon."

STAPLETON TO RETURN

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Iowa State football fans can relax now — Clay Stapleton will be back next year as head coach.

The Iowa board of regents Friday voted to give Stapleton — rumored on his way to Nebraska to replace Bill Jennings — a four-year contract extension. Stapleton's contract was due to expire on Feb. 1, 1963, but with the new pact, he'll be around through the 1968 season.

Lakers Upset By Packers

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers, still incredulous over Friday night's upset to the Chicago Packers, attempt to rally their senses and forces for tonight's game here against the Syracuse Nationals.

The Lakers, riding an eight-game win streak, easily moved into Chicago for what was supposed to be a routine victory over the least winning team in the National Basketball Association, the Packers.

But Packer rookie Walt Bellamy scored 32 points, Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor—who had been averaging over 39 points a game — fouled out for the first time in two years and the Packers upset the Lakers, 97-94.

Tourney Won by Mrs. W. W. Kelly

The Women's Golf Auxiliary of Bermuda Dunes Country Club held their Guest Day Medal Play tourney with Mrs. W. W. Kelly winning first place in low net.

Second place low net was won by Mrs. David Mindel and third place honors was won by Mrs. George Lindsey, of Thunderbird Country Club.

Mrs. J. A. Foley won fourth place laurels and fifth place was won by Mrs. Sidney Freeman.

Spending on Non-Defense Soars High

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The latest Kennedy administration budget estimates again demonstrate that non-defense spending has been increasing more rapidly than government spending in all areas for national defense.

This nagging fact never is in the script when spenders explain to the taxpayers why there must be another deficit at the end of a fiscal year. President Kennedy is braced now for a deficit of about $7 billion when the treasury closes its books on the 1962 fiscal year at midnight, June 30.

The trends of defense and non-defense spending are shown by a comparison of what was spent in fiscal 1952 with what the President estimates will be spent this fiscal year. In fiscal '52, for military services and international security and foreign relations, the government spent $44.9 billion.

Security Cost High

These categories of spending are named somewhat differently in the '62 budget estimates. Using the new nomenclature, in fiscal '62, the President estimates major national security and international affairs and finance will cost $54.1 billion. That is an increase over 10 years of $9.1 billion.

Spending for all purposes, however, will be $21.9 billion greater in the current '62 fiscal year than in fiscal '52. Non-defense spending evidently will account for nearly $13 billion of this additional spending against $9.1 billion for overall security.

This bulge in non-defense spending over a period of 10 years is much greater than the predicted '62 fiscal year deficit of nearly $7 billion. It may be possible for the Kennedy administration to fry some fat out of non-defense spending. The President has asked his administrative officers to hold the line and to cut where they can.

Government economy is unpopular, however, with everyone except, possibly, the taxpayers. If it is unpopular with the taxpayers they do not express themselves at the polls because over the years big-spending presidents and big-spending political parties have won elections more often than they have lost them.

Deficit Record

The treasury deficit record of the past 32 years is a shocking record. The first of the current progression of treasury deficits was recorded in fiscal '31. There have been 25 deficit years since then. In only six years during this period has the treasury been in the black.

These deficits have been accompanied by a current inflation that has roiled the purchasing value of the dollar to less than half its value of about 20 years ago. Compared with its purchasing power in 1939, the dollar of today is worth a fraction of a cent more than 46 cents.

Persons with savings, insurance policies, pensions and such have been robbed literally of billions of dollars by this dollar robbing process. There has not been a deficit yet that could not be explained away, rationalized and, even, be made to look good. It is customary, also, to place the blame for treasury deficits on defense spending.

Enthusiasm for Veterans Meet

Over 60 men and women were in attendance at the last meeting of the World War One Veterans with much enthusiasm shown.

Plans are now underway for the formation of a Woman's Auxiliary. Next meeting will be held shortly after the new year, according to John B. McIntyre, Barracks 207 commander.

Runs a Close Second

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau predicted Wednesday that California may overtake New York in population by 1963 if recent trends continue. As of last July 1, it reported, New York had a population of 17,033,000 and California 16,397,000.

Electronic Brains Not Superior, Just Faster

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It isn't true that human brains are inferior to the electronic kind—they're just slower.

There isn't anything that a modern high speed computer can do in one hour that a gifted and patient man, with plenty of paper and lots of ballpoint pens, couldn't do in 10 million hours.

True, there are electronic computers which, by solving intricate design problems, have conceived computer species more highly evolved than their own.

And the way technological advances are leapfrogging themselves these days it is highly likely, scientists say, that computers of the future will be able not only to repair but to reproduce themselves.

But don't forget one thing—It was human beings who invented electronic brains, and not vice versa. For the time being, at least, human beings are still giving rather than taking the orders.

The human beings who invented the electronic computer are J. Prosper Eckert and Dr. John W. Mauchly. Wednesday night these men, whose offspring now command annual rentals of $1 million or so, received a copper medal and $500 apiece at the annual banquet of the Eastern Joint Computer Conference.

Built For Army

The world's first electronic computer, the work of Eckert and Mauchly, was built 15 years ago for the Army Ordnance Department at the Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

It was Eniac, a 30-ton monster with 19,000 electron tubes which consumed 150 kilowatts of electrical power, enough to run a large broadcasting system. It took up most of the space in a room 30 feet by 50.

Mauchly, a professor at the University of Pennsylvania, was driven by the need to solve problems in weather physics which just couldn't be solved in a lifetime by the mechanical computers of the period.

Eckert, a brilliant engineering student at the university, was tired of seeing the talents of the versatile electron "wasted on entertainment and communications," as in radio. He wanted to put it to "more useful work."

Solved H-Bomb Problems

They did not have any money to speak of but Uncle Sam did. So Mauchly and Eckert built Eniac for $480,000 and the Army put it to work at Aberdeen solving artillery firing problems. When extra time was available, Eniac worked on the hideously difficult equations which had blocked development of the H-bomb.

Eniac performed prodigies of service for 10 years before it was scrapped. Among other things it, and machines like it, made possible the present missile-space age. Key parts of Eniac are slated to be enshrined in the Smithsonian Institution.

To design and build Eniac from scratch today, what with inflation and all, would cost more than $1 million. But, according to Eckert, a brain with the same electronic gifts could now be made for $1,000. And it would be smaller than an ordinary telephone.

Handle Many Jobs

Eniac performed routinely only a handful of chores. It was 1,000 times faster than the mechanical calculators which preceded it. Today's finest computers are 1,000 times faster than Eniac. They can perform perhaps 1,000 times faster than Eniac. They can perform perhaps 1,000 times more tasks—jobs ranging from automatic control of factories to split-second guidance of missiles and almost instantaneous tracking of mercury man-in-orbit spacecraft.

There is a difference between Mauchly and Eckert and the Wright Brothers. The Wright Brothers could hardly have envisioned the X15 traveling at 4,090 miles an hour. Eckert and Mauchly built into Eniac the logical equipment for running whole industries, portending a second industrial revolution.

Practically every big business or governmental operation now uses electronic computers. About 11,000 are now steadily employed. Business even asks its electronic brain, on the basis of information and speculations fed into them, to predict the future.

Chest Budget of $114,000

The directors of the Community Chest here approved a budget of $114,000 for 1962, according to William Smith, president.

The Directors set the fiscal year of the Chest agencies to run from July 1, to June 30, with all unexpended money to be returned to the Community Chest at the end of each fiscal year. This new by-law was adopted to insure closer supervision of budgets and expended monies by the various agencies of the Chest.

The breakdown of the budget allows only $11,000 for campaign expenses, office and secretary, mailing and postage, advertising and other necessary expenditures.

Where It Goes

The balance of the money is allocated to Boys Club, $30,441.27; Boy Scouts $16,567.33; Girl Scouts $3,800; Welfare and Friendly Aid $18,375; Youth Center $15,965; Campfire Girls $3,928; Safety Council $1,400; and Desert Museum $10,000.

The Warner donation of property to the Welfare and Friendly Aid Fund is entailed in trust for a child guidance program, and the Pathfinders Fund to the Boy's Club for a swimming pool cannot be used in the general maintenance of the agencies.

The Palm Springs Community Chest depends a great deal upon support from part-time residents. "We hope that this year the full time Palm Springsites who enjoy our beautiful city and wonderful climate will also assume their fair share of the privilege of helping our youth and others who need assistance," Bill Smith said.

For Community

"This is a community project!" "This is the first year of operation under the new bylaws and constitution and to those who support the chest it will be a better year because of closer supervision of the agencies and better use of donated funds. The Palm Springs area is growing rapidly and its needs are increasing, the Community Chest intends to grow with it," Smith concluded.
